Global Finance Names The 50 Safest Banks In Emerging Markets 2018

NEW YORK, September 21, 2018 — Global Finance has named the 50 Safest Banks in Emerging Markets for 2018 as part of an exclusive survey to be published in the November 2018 issue.

Asian banks dominated the top of the list once again this year. South Korean banks took the first three spots and four of the top 10, and Chinese banks landed three of the top 10 positions. Overall, Asian banks took 21 of the top 50 spots.

Middle Eastern banks also performed very well, with 23 banks in the Top 50, including First Abu Dhabi Bank at #4 and National Bank of Kuwait at #5.

Global Finance evaluates the ratings and total assets of the main players in developing economies to create the rankings—providing an overview of the key banks in each region and which financial institutions offer the greatest security. Banks were selected through an evaluation of long-term foreign currency ratings—from Moody’s, Standard & Poor’s and Fitch Ratings—of the 500 largest banks in emerging markets.

In addition to the 50 Safest Banks in Emerging Markets, the full report also includes the following: World’s 50 Safest Banks, World’s 50 Safest Commercial Banks, Safest Banks by Country, Safest Islamic Financial Institutions in the GCC, and Safest Banks by Region (Africa, Asia, Australasia, Central & Eastern Europe, Latin America, the Middle East, North America and Western Europe).

“Emerging markets are often challenging because they are prey to more uncertainty and volatility in their local economies than more developed markets as they move toward fuller participation in global markets. Our ranking of Safest Banks in Emerging Markets provides a metric by which companies and investors can compare individual institutions to their counterparts in the home market as well as to those in other emerging markets,” says Global Finance publisher and editorial director Joseph D. Giarraputo.
